About MyBnk

- ⚡ Our vision is a financially capable and enterprising generation. Together with young people, we have created innovative, high-impact and high-energy financial education workshops, delivered by our expert trainers. We build financial capability at key transitional moments, addressing mind-sets, attitudes and behaviours to help young people form an understanding of the wider world of money. We also give vulnerable young adults 'survival' money skills and knowledge to move into independent living.
- ⚡ Topics include saving, budgeting, public finance, debt prioritisation, digital finance skills and enterprise. Alongside delivery, we design projects and training programmes for other organisations.
- ⚡ Young people, aged 7-25, learn about money by doing it for real. We look to establish positive money behaviours at young ages (Money Twist KS2), deal with preventing issues arising for 11-18 year olds (Money Twist KS3-5, Uni Dosh), and survival for young, disadvantaged adults (Money Works, The Money House). We live our values, putting young people at the heart of what we do and always considering how to be impactful. We carefully select, train, support and monitor our trainers to ensure high and consistent quality.
- ⚡ We are committed to remaining leaders in our field. The programmes work, evidenced by comprehensive, independent and published evaluation. We want effective financial education for all young people, through MyBnk, and by driving systemic change, collaborating with and influencing commerce and government.
- ⚡ MyBnk was founded in 2007 by our Chair, Lily Lapenna. Guy Rigden, CEO, joined in February 2013. We have 27 employees and 35 freelance trainers supported by a strong, diverse and engaged trustee board. Turnover in 2017/18 was £1.6 million. We worked with more than 33,000 young people and 300 partner organisations.

- ⚡ Supporters include leading trusts, foundations, corporates and the Money Advice Service.
