These workshops are designed to get young people thinking and caring about their finances, both now and in their short and long-term futures.

Money Twist approaches financial capability in a hands-on manner as young people play games, engage with video case study challenges, and involve physical activity in their learning. Each session is structured to look at where young people get money, what they do with it and why it matters. Participants are encouraged to give their own views and critically analyse various financial problems that young people and adults are faced with, as well as considering their own financial futures.

Money Twist is based on the Money Advice Service’s Teacher Outcomes Framework and key research. The content maps into the financial literacy parts of the Citizenship, Maths and PSHE curriculum. It is ideal for financial capability focus days, enterprise weeks, or can be built into a scheme of work over a number of weeks.

Multiple Money Twist workshops can be run simultaneously to allow several classes to take part at once.

“Teenagers need these sessions to open their eyes to the possibilities that money has for them and which areas we should be saving our money in the long term for our future. This was a great experience and would love to do it again!” Becky Moody, 15, The Mountbatten School.
